BALKY COW
PUTS FARMER IN HOSPITAL

"Farming isn't what it's cracked up to be," says Glenn Schiffer, 54, who owns a farm on Willow Road, New Lenox township, north of route 7.

Monday morning after the milking was done he was about to turn the cows out to pasture when one cow became frightened and knocked him down, stepping on him and breaking his ankle.

Nobody was around to give Mr. Schiffer any assistance, as his son, Carl, 21, was disabled from a corncripper accident about 10 days ago, when five bones were broken in three fingers when he tried to pull a corn stalk from a clogged corncripper. Mr. Schiffer managed to crawl to the house, which he says was four or five rods away. His wife took him to Silver Cross hospital, where the bone was set and his ankle placed in a cast. He is at home now, doing nicely, but is still incapacitated.

Because of the incapacitation of both father and son, another son, Raymond, who has been in the army service since last May, and who is stationed in Arizona, will come home Wednesday. Raymond has been given a leave of absence long enough to tide the family over the emergency.

To Drill Teeth
Soon With Sound,
Says Dr. B. J. Rooth

Dr. B. J. Rooth, Orland Park's dentist, flew to Miami, Fla., Nov. 8 to attend the convention of the American Dental Association.

Brought out at the convention was a new and revolutionary method of drilling teeth, by means of an ultra-sonic instrument. The drilling with this instrument is done by an electric sound which removes and cuts out the decay without any pain or vibration being felt by the patient. This instrument has been used successfully in Bethesda Naval hospital, Washington, D.C., and the Columbia Dental college uses it for the students' demonstrations. However, it has not yet been perfected to the point where it can be used in general practice, but it will not be long before it is. This, said Dr. Rooth, is the latest improvement in dental practice for the past 20 years and is bound to revolutionize dentistry.

From Miami, Dr. Rooth flew to Memphis, Tenn., where he met his wife and her mother, Mrs. L. W. Holcomb, who makes her home with the Rooths, and the latter's sister, Mrs. Rada Holcomb, of Richland, Wash. The entire group then motored to West Plains, Mo., to attend the 50th wedding anniversary of the Holcombs' star, Rev. and Mrs. Thomas E. King. More than 200 people attended the celebration. The Rooths and their party had a delightful time and returned to Orland Nov. 13.

Petition State Legislature For More School Aid

One million signatures - this is the goal of a joint committee of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers and the Illinois Education Association now circulating petitions addressed to Governor Stratton and the Illinois General Assembly.

The petitions urgently request that the state's chief executive and members of the legislature give serious consideration to the school finance crisis through legislative action early in the 1955 session of the General Assembly.

The petition also directs attention to ever increasing enrollments, a growing shortage of qualified teachers, crowded classrooms, inadequate buildings, and the growing inability of many school districts to meet such problems.

The Governor, in cooperation with the General Assembly, is being urged to consider promptly and to provide constructive legislation for: a substantial increase in state aid to the common schools, emergency state aid for construction of school buildings in areas of greatest need; and provision for more fair, equitable, and adequate assessment of properties for local taxation purposes.

According to Bertrand L. Smith, secretary of the joint committee and superintendent of Oak Park elementary schools, the petition idea has met with a strong and positive response on the part of parents and school people. The petitions are now being widely circulated in the Chicago area.

Mrs. C. Bueschel
Taken By Death
After Long Illness

Mrs. Caroline Bueschel, nee Hachlien, 75, a resident of Mokena for the past 18 years, died in her home Monday, Nov. 22 at 3 p.m. following an illness of several months. By a strange coincidence, the day she died was her 55th wedding anniversary.

Born in Chicago, Sept. 13, 1874, she was united in marriage to Andrew E. Bueschel on Nov. 22, 1901, in Chicago.

The Bueschels were privileged, three years ago, to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary. Mr. Bueschel was formerly employed in the box manufacturing business. Upon his retirement 18 years ago they moved to Mokena and purchased their home on Wolf road where they have lived ever since.

Mrs. Bueschel was a member and past worthy matron of the Englewood chapter of the Eastern Stars; also a member of St. John's church guild in Mokena.

Surviving, besides her husband is a son, Andrew L. of Mokena, her only child; three grandchildren, Andrew L. Jr., of Orland Park, Donna of Mokena and Corp. Jack Bueschel, who had been serving in Korea, and received an emergency leave from Honolulu. Also a great grandson, Andrew Bueschel the 3rd, and a nephew George Hachlien, whom she raised.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 24, at 2 p.m. in St. John's Evangelical church in Mokena, with Rev. William Riemann officiating. Burial will be in St. John's cemetery, Mokena.

Tavern Owners
Cautioned About
Selling To Minors

William N. Erickson, Cook County Liquor Control Commissioner, has issued this special notice to owners of taverns.

"Recent items in the daily press have stated that minors were on the premises of various taverns throughout the County of Cook, and that liquor had been served to them.

"Tavernkeepers are hereby again cautioned to keep their premises free, at all times, from minors who are not escorted by their parents or other proper persons.

"They are hereby notified that any violation of this notice, or any violation of any of the terms and conditions of the application for a license to retail alcoholic liquors, which they signed at the time they made their application, will be considered good and sufficient reason for the immediate revocation of their license."

Jury Recommends
Flasher Signals
At Marley Crossing

The warning signals at the Marley road crossing of the Wabash railroad are inadequate, a coroner's jury has ruled. The jury has recommended that flasher signals be installed.

The investigation made by the jury was the direct result of the death of Arthur G. Lauffer, 71, a Homer township farmer, who died as the result of a brain trauma due to a skull fracture incurred when the car he was driving was hit by the Wabash railroad's "Bluebird," about 5:30 p.m. Oct. 16, at the Marley crossing.

The inquest was held last Thursday at the courthouse, under direction of Coroner Willard G. Blood.

VFW To Omit

14 CHILDREN
IN FRANKFORT

The Frankfort community band is happy to announce that 14 children have joined the band recently. Most of them will begin as a beginner's group, meeting every Thursday evening at 7 o'clock and Friday at 11:45 a.m. starting Dec. 2, along with the advanced band.

As the new members progress in their musical studies, they will be put into the older group to form a single unit.

The new members are listed below, with the instruments they have chosen to play.

Linda Hren, flute; Norma Jean Smith, clarinet; Jimmie Kortanek, trombone; Judy Lewis, clarinet; Christine Tolt, sousaphone; Arnold Blaylock, cornet; Charles Otto, saxophone; Roger Lehnert, trumpet; Raymond Mankowski, drums; Diane Mankowski, clarinet; Leanne Schroeder, saxophone; Yvonne Brown, saxophone; Vincent Miller, trumpet; Judy Hansen, cymbals.

Parents of these children automatically become members of the Band Parents and are expected to appear at every monthly Band Parent association meeting. Their first gathering, along with the rest of the Band Parents, will be Dec. 3, at 1 p.m., at the Frankfort grade school.

Have you a band instrument to sell at a reasonable price? A large number of these children are renting and they possibly would like to purchase one for their very own later. If you have such an instrument, please call Frankfort 2293, Mrs. Rudolph Guzik.

The Band Parents scrap drive came to an end Saturday. Paper rags and scrap iron have been piled high, to give the band members an additional boost to their financial status. We are indeed grateful to everyone who donated something to make this drive a success. The paper and rags and some scrap metal were gathered Saturday by a pickup squad, consisting of Terry Schroeder, Allen and Arlen Schram and Randy Smith, Norman Siebert, Charles Miller, and Leona Guzik. Mrs. Guzik and Mrs. Lester Heisner drove the truck.

The band parents wish to thank Art Eisenbrandt, Martin Miller, Brunett Schram, Rudolph Guzik and Robert Trump for the help and hard work contributed to this cause. Again we thank and salute those who were willing to sacrifice a little of their time to do a wonderful job so the band parents and band members could profit by it.

THOUGHTS and THANKS

AS A NATION WE ENJOY NOT ONLY MATERIAL BLESSINGS
NOT DREAMED OF BY OUR FATHERS WHO ESTABLISHED
THANKSGIVING — BUT, WHAT'S MORE, WE'VE GROWN IN TOLERANCE, IN NEIGHBORLIENESS, IN APPRECIATION OF THE FREEDOMS THAT WE HAVE WON IN OUR DEMOCRACY.

WE CAN ALL BE THOUGHTFUL OF, AND THANKFUL FOR,
OUR NATIONAL HERITAGE — AND PARTICULARLY FOR THE VALUES OF THE SPIRIT THAT IT EMBRACES.

LET US GIVE THANKS

Thanksgiving Day is here again,
So let us check the score
And list the many, many things
We should be thankful for.

We're prone to take for granted
That comes to us each day;
It may seem sort of natural
Good things should come our way—

The air we breathe, the gentle rain,
The sun's life-giving ray,
And this good earth that is our home,
The strength for work and play.

For our dear land, our home and friends,
For those whose paths we've trod,
And all the bounty left to us—
Let us give thanks to God.
—Fred Morley

Strawberries In November In Alpine

According to Mrs. Violet Morosek, correspondent for the Alpine column, Clint Youle, TV weatherman, Howard Miller, and the Farmers' Almanac, all predicted Indian summer for the first part of November. That their predictions came true everybody now knows.

One Alpine housewife found four ripe strawberries in her garden and picked a rose in full bloom Nov. 17. Weather such as we have been having makes one wonder why some go to other climes for a change of climate.

It was also decided to meet the first Wednesday of each month. Their first meeting will be Wednesday evening, Dec. 1, in the school, starting at 8 o'clock. Officers will be elected at this meeting, from a slate selected by the nominating committee which was formed at the November meeting.

French Voyagers
Explore Arctic
In Three Canoes

by Roberts Mann
Conservation Editor

On May 19, 1859, young Robert Kennicott, the famous Cook County naturalist, left Fort William, on the north shore of Lake Superior, with a "brigade" of three canoes of the Hudson's Bay Company to explore Arctic North America. The following is condensed from his fascinating journal.

The three canoes were each about 36 feet long, 4 in width, and 2½ deep in the middle. The outer shell is formed entirely of birch bark, placed with the inside outward. The seams are stitched with split larch (tamarack) roots, and gummed with resin from the spruce. The outer shell is strengthened by a lining of thin strips of larch laid longitudinally, and light ribs of the same within these. The gunwales are formed by light bars of larch, about two inches square, into which the edges of the bark are lashed by larch roots.

One of these canoes weighs, after some use, about 300 pounds and it will carry nearly 3000 pounds besides the crew. A block is placed in the bottom behind one of the thwarts to receive the foot of a mast. This is not usually carried but whenever there is a favorable wind, a suitable pole, with a fork at the top, is cut and up this is drawn a pole used as a yard for the square sail which is trimmed by means of lines at the corners.

The larger canoes, described above, are called north canoes. Another size, about 20 feet in length, are known as half canoes; while the small ones, ordinarily used by the Indians and only ten or fifteen feet long, are called light canoes. A still larger size than the north canoes were formerly used on the voyages up the St. Lawrence and across the lakes to Fort William. These were designated as "Montreal" or lake canoes, capable of carrying 4000 pounds of freight and weathering hard storms. But for inland navigation, where portages are so frequent, the lighter "north" canoes are found preferable.

The proper crew of such canoes is eight men: abowsmen, steersman, and six middlemen. The bowsman, who is the guide, sits alone; the six middlemen occupy three seats placed about five feet apart; and the steersman stands in the stern, never sitting down while the canoe is in motion. The latter uses a paddle with a much longer handle and broader blade than the others, rarely using his paddle as a rudder, but only makes a little over half as many strokes as the others. As the steersman's post is much the hardest, all of the good middlemen take the post by turns. In good water the guide uses an ordinary paddle but on rapids, or in turning sharp corners, he takes one larger than that of the steersman. All keep perfect time and, when the three crews come abreast, as they sometimes did, all singing and keeping stroke together, the effect was very exhilarating.

In ascending some parts of the stream, where current was too strong for paddling, the canoe was propelled by poles. On stronger rapids the men were often forced to pull the canoe with lines, walking in the ice-cold water or along the shore where nature permitted, to avoid a laborious portage.

Each day we started about 3 a.m., stopped at about 8 a.m. for breakfast, and camped at about 8 p.m., or later when the article days were longer. They paddled with great rapidity, making about 40 strokes per minute. When it is considered that this is kept up, exclusive for several "smokes" of about 15 minutes each, and of the stops for breakfast and dinner from twelve to fifteen hours per day, some idea may be formed of the extreme powers of these French-Canadian and Iroquois voyagers.

Missionary From India To Speak
At St. John's

Mrs. Armin Meyer

Mr. Armin F. Meyer, furloughed missionary from India, will be guest speaker in St. John's church in Mokena for the Thanksgiving offering Sunday, Nov. 28, at the 10:45 morning service.

Mrs. Meyer and husband, the Rev. Armin F. Meyer, have recently returned on furlough from their missionary endeavors in India where they have been working for 33 years.

Commenting on their work, she said: "In our part of the field the church is still very young. The training of native ministers evangelists, teachers and nurses is only in its beginning. In these small village churches teachings on the Christian home, foods and nutrition, health and adult literacy, are very necessary, second only to the preaching of the gospel. The need and opportunities are very great. The missionary has been doing much health clinical work and all kinds of teaching.

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Riemann of St. John's Church and together with her husband will be a guest in their home for a week.

Lincoln-Way Board Votes To Provide
Working Cash Fund

During a recent meeting of the board of education a resolution was adopted to approve and to issue working cash fund bonds in accordance with the school code. The total amount of these bonds comes to $134,000.00, and will be retired over a period of 19 to 20 years. The board members had decided to wait until after Nov. 1 for this issue in order that some of the building bonds could be paid off before this new issue. $85,000.00 worth of the building bonds have been retired since they were issued in October, 1953.

These new bonds should not be confused with the building bonds, since they will enable the educational funds to be on a cash basis. Ever since the school district was organized, tax funds were collected and bills paid at the end of the school year. Now with the beginning of school, the salaries and expenses all go on a cash basis, and still many of the bills from last year are unpaid. In addition to this situation, all new educational equipment had to be purchased at the beginning of school. Much of this equipment such as science, shop, band, visual aids, athletic, etc., could not be charged to the building fund, and must be paid for in the near future.

The board members considered two methods of securing these funds, either by issuing bonds or by issuing anticipation tax warrants. They chose the bonds in order to spread the present obligations over a longer period of time, and also, a more favorable interest rate can be secured on the bonds. The actual interest rate would be determined through competitive bidding by the various firms interested.

It was pointed out in the last budget that $144,729.53 was still owed in back tuition to the various high schools. Joliet Township high school has the largest claim, amounting to $122,025.23. The annual budget adopted by the school board last August indicated a deficit of $140,584.94; consequently, these bonds will greatly aid in getting started on a cash basis.

In time, the educational tax rate of 7½ will have to be increased unless there is a large increase in the present assessed valuation of $25,000,000. It is certain that there will be about 100 more students in Lincoln-Way next year than were this year.

In another section of this issue is a legal notice pertaining to this bond issue.

Girl Scout News

Brownie troop 13 met Wednesday afternoon at Oakwood school with sixteen scouts present. Dawn McCleary presided at the business meeting and Linda Shreffler led the pledge to the United States flag. The girls read the Brownie story and made plans for their investiture ceremony and program to be held December 1.

Joan Kestel served donuts. Hostess for next week will be Sharon Klausner.

Leaders, Mrs. Wendell Hardy and Mrs. Donald Lewison were assisted by Mrs. Betty Koehler, Scout mother. There is no meeting scheduled for Nov. 26.

Brownie troop 7 met in the Haven school Wednesday, with a perfect attendance of 15 girls who were assigned the troop 7. The investiture ceremony was impressive with each girl looking into the mirror lake to discover that she was the Brownie whose rejection she saw. When the girls had received their Brownie Scout pins they formed a horse shoe and repeated the promise and sang the Brownie Smile song. Members are Sarah Jane Becker, Charlotte Chandler, Carolyn Clark, Merrilee Crouse, Diane Eden, Dotty Gardner, Jane Ann Georgis, Catherine Hewitt, Ruth Ann Johnson, Marjorie Knowles, Suzanne Lord, Linda Smith, Lynn Schroeder, Lynn Wilda, Shirley Zarse, and the leaders are Mrs. William Knowles and Mrs. William Becker.

Troop committee members are: Mrs. Frank Chandler, Mrs. William Clark, Mrs. John Eden, Mrs. Bernard Wilda, and Mrs. Charles Smith, who furnished the refreshments of cup cakes, coffee, and koolade. The girls served as hostesses. Present besides the committee members were: Mrs. Earl Schroeder, Mrs. Elmer Zarse, Mrs. Marion Johnson, and Mrs. Floyd Gardner. Hostess for next week is Jane Ann Georgis.

Brownie trop 99 met with leaders, Mrs. Roy Dowle, Mrs. Eugene Peters and Mrs. Howard Lane Friday in Haven school.

The group repeated the pledge to our country's flag, and the Brownie promise. They finished their Brownie samplers and then played games. Linda Lane was hostess and Lillianne Osmus will be hostess for the December 3rd meeting. There is no meeting scheduled for November 26.

Brownie trop 104 met in Haven school Wednesday afternoon with a perfect attendance except for one leader, Mrs. Paul Beedle, who was absent due to illness. Troop leader, Mrs. Algot Peterson was assisted by Mrs. Harry Huss, a leader from troop 97; also junior assistant, Evelyn Rows well and Claudia Peterson from troop 90. Gavle Huss was a visitor. The president led the pledge of allegiance to the national flag and the Brownie promise. The girls had fun making kittens out of a washcloth and bar of soap with sequin eyes and ears, and a tail of pine cleaners.

Hostess Judy Dunn, served Graham crackers cake. Hostess for Dec. 1 will be Susan Rowswell. There will be no meeting Nov. 24. The intermediate troop 97 meeting was called off for Nov. 15. There is a meeting scheduled for Nov. 22 with Mary Ellen Olson as hostess. Holly Peterson will be hostess for the Nov. 29 meeting. Barbara Beadles is reporter.

Intermediate troop - 90 met in the Lions Den Friday and opened by repeating the pledge to the national flag and the Scout promise. They learned to use the different types of metal polish and especially how to care for their new aluminum trays they had made for their metal badge. They are all enjoying the plays being dramatized for the troop dramatic badge. Each girl is looking forward to being awarded the rank of first class girl Scout. One of the requirements to achieve this rating is to select and direct a play. Susan Higgins, botham, Jonelle Roberson, and Prudence Rowe are producing plays at present including members of the troop in the cast. Three other scouts will select and direct a play when these are completed. To become a First Class Girl Scout is a high honor and means she has skill in many fields and has become proficient in one. Hostesses were Claudia Peterson and Eleanor Pester.

There will be no meeting Nov. 26. —Becky Sheeler, reporter.

Old Adage, "Spare Rod, Spoil Child," Should Be Dusted Off And Used Again

AN EDITORIAL

There is an old expression, "Easy come, easy go," the essence of which is lack of appreciation for things we come easily by. This seems to apply particularly to our juvenile problems at school these days. It is a disturbing fact that many of our youth do not appreciate the fine educational facilities we have nowadays, a striking example of which was had in the recent disturbance at Lincoln-Way high school, when several youths invaded the premises apparently intent on mischief, and one of them struck the school bus driver and it was necessary to call the police. While this is an outstanding case, it is, nevertheless, true that all is not as it should be in our schools with respect to the behavior of students.

Being a school teacher or school superintendent is becoming a more and more difficult position as juvenile delinquency mounts, and this field will fail to attract to it the high caliber of men and women needed unless there is a marked improvement in the attitude of youth towards education, and respect for their elders and for each other. It has come to our attention that two high school superintendents in the area one has recently had a nervous breakdown and the other had to take time off to recuperate from the wear and tear of his position. Many conscientious young people attend school for many years and study hard during these years, to fit themselves for the position of teacher. To these, the outlook is discouraging, and will continue to be so unless parents step in and change the picture by beginning to train their children at home.

We build costly schools, and our property is taxed for years and years to pay for these schools, only to have certain groups of careless, thoughtless, young people abuse our property, who probably pay little if any school tax. These schools belong to all of us, and abuses of this public property are much the same as if our children were to tear down our own fences or throw rocks at our own windows.

One of the main contributing factors is this: Too many parents these days, thinking first of the almighty dollar, allow their children to grow up, "like Topsy." Both parents are working, leaving their children to shift for themselves at home alone, roaming the streets, or annoying their neighbors.

When these children, who have followed their own sweet will all their lives, reach school age and suddenly come in contact with authority, they don't know how to behave. Having done just as they pleased up to now, without much parental guidance, the school discipline irks them and they break through the traces.

It all boils down to lack of appreciation and lack of parental supervision. How wonderful if the youth of today had the fine appreciation of education which Abraham Lincoln and others had, who struggled by lamp light for their education. While the day of the log cabin and the little red school house is long past, perhaps we should revert to that age of disciplining by the rod. It is not too late to try to revive the spirit of that day and generation. It should be the constant aim of all parents to instill into their children obedience and respect, together with a deep appreciation of our modern educational facilities. The students themselves should strive to develop an awareness of the splendid opportunities which are theirs, and which can be had so easily.

Don't forget, the behavior of the child at school tells the teacher and the world what kind of a home and parents they come from.

ALPINE

Mrs. E. Mrosek
Orland 41-J-1

There was a good turn out of Alpine 4-H club members at the recognition night meeting in Homewood Nov. 16. Members and their leaders are to be congratulated for the credit they have brought to their clubs and their community.

The regular monthly board meeting of the Maue PTA will be held in the Charles Henning home Thursday, Dec. 2 at 8 p.m. Plans for the Christmas program will be made.

Because of the holidays, the November and December square dances will be combined. The next dance is scheduled for Friday evening, Dec. 3 and will be held in the school as usual.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reeves entertained at parties in the afternoon and evening, Wednesday, honoring the first birthday of their daughter, Margaret Ann. Margaret Ann, whose three brothers thought they had a dish washing career lined up for her, was seen in a football line-up of neighborhood boys last week. "It's all right," states her mother, "but she didn't mistake her for the football!"

Nick Ridler returned Thursday from Silver Cross hospital, where he has been a surgical patient.

Some concern is being expressed over the possibility of Michel, a Muscovy duck who resides in the district, being able to survive the hunting season. Michel makes daily flying tours over the neighborhood and after satisfying herself as to what is cooking, she can usually be seen tagging after her mistress, Mrs. William Felsch.

Hearing tests are scheduled for Maue school, Dec. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pelouquin entertained Wednesday evening in honor of the seventh birthday of their daughter, Carol. Guests were his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Pelouquin, Terry and Jeffry, of Blue Island and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kohl, Donny and Mary Lou.

4-H NEWS

The Alpine Girls Agricultural and Home Economics 4-H club met Wednesday evening, Nov. 17, in the Harwood Stellwagen home.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Sharon Lauffer, and opened with the Pledge of Allegiance. Routine reports were given. America was sung accompanied by Kay Maue at the piano. IN MEMORIAM

HENTSCH—William A. In loving memory of our father and grandfather who passed away one year ago Nov. 23.

What would we give his hand to clasp,
His patient face to see,
To hear his voice, to see his smile

As in the days that used to be,
But some sweet day we'll meet again
Beyond the toil and strife,
And clasp each other's hand once more

At home in heaven, together again.

MOUNTED PLOWS

first choice for better farming

SNAP-COUPLES

The trend is to mounted plows and Allis-Chalmers "built-on-the-square" design is a symbol of good farming as well as great strength. Free-Swinging from a single hitchpoint the plow follows contours naturally... high clearance helps you cover trash... natural line of draft assures uniform plowing depth.

Tough, spring steel frame and beams are set at right angles to each other and rigidly braced. No other design gives you so much resistance to twisting, springing or misalignment. Triple-strength shares— $\frac{3}{8}$ in. thick, with up to 20 percent more metal, give you correspondingly longer wear.

SNAP-COUPLES is an Allis-Chalmers trademark.

Results of the x-rays will be sent to Mrs. Mary Sutor, school nurse, in approximately two weeks. After she has recorded the returns, they will be distributed to students by their home-room teachers.

If any x-ray re-takes are necessary, a large picture, 14 by 17, will be taken at Ingall's Hospital in Harvey.

MAGAZINE SALES

The magazine sales campaign at Lincoln-Way high school was launched at a student council sponsored assembly recently.

The assembly was called to order by Mr. Chapman, principal, who turned the meeting over to Dale McMahon, student council vice president. Dale gave recognition to Mrs. Hussey, mathematics teacher, and her three helpers—Shirley Tarrant, Bob Elliott, and Mary Mark—who are helping in the daily tabulation of sales. He also recognized the room captains who help in collecting the money each day.

A report on the way in which the proceeds would be distributed among the various organizations and classes was made by Marilyn Cooper, Mary Lou Loebe then explained to the assembly how the campaign would help each organization pay its share in the cost of the year book.

Wm. Murphy of the Curtis Publishing Co. was introduced by the student chairman and he explained how the sales program operates. He stated that surveys have shown that the average family spends $10 to $15 per year on magazine subscriptions, and that the students should be able to get a reasonable

Mr. Murphy explained how individual prizes would be given and pointed out several sales techniques.

The high school band under the direction of Mr. Robert Taylor played several numbers during the program, including the school's new loyalty song.

Just before the assembly was dismissed, it was announced that the first issue of the school newspaper, the "Lincoln Log," was ready for distribution and each student received a copy as he left.

JUNIORS - SENIORS

Juniors and Seniors at Lincoln-Way High school spent part of last Thursday afternoon and Friday morning pouring over a battery of tests which were sponsored by the University of Illinois and administered by Lincoln-Way faculty.

The battery of tests is known as the Illinois Statewide High School tests and is given in a large percentage of high schools in Illinois. It includes tests of abstract reasoning, verbal reasoning, reading comprehension in both social sciences and physical sciences, and a test of writing skills. Neil Hardy and Richard Keeley gave the tests to the Seniors, and Ralph Wright, Morrie Grimberg, and Bryce Sardiga to the Juniors.

The tests will be machine scored by the University of Illinois. Students will have an opportunity later to have their test scores interpreted for them by one of their counselors.

The results of these tests are helpful in making future plans and often help in college admissions, recommendations for scholarships, obtaining employment, and in other ways. The tests are also helpful to the faculty in understanding individual students and in comparing the progress of our students with those of other high schools throughout the state.

The testing program at Lincoln-Way is being developed as a four-year plan with tests being administered at each class level, and is under the direction of Ralph Wright, director of guidance, and Mrs. Alice Gorman, assistant director.

HOLD GREEN HAND

The FFA held their Green Hand initiation Nov. 10 at seven o'clock at the agriculture department at Lincoln-Way High school. The meeting began with the opening ceremonies followed by the formal Green Hand initiation. The Green Hands were blind folded and seated on chairs until the ceremonies were over. They were then led in Indian style to where the ceremonies were taking place. There they had to recite the FFA creed by memory. After that the blind folds were removed, and Mr. Van Rheaden, our advisor, presented the Green Hands with their Bronze Green Hand pin, and the meeting was adjourned. Those receiving the Green Hand degree were as follows: Ron Nelson, John Mann, David Werkle, Tod Minuth, Richard Batson, Marvin Bormet, Bob Hermann, Richard Fish, Terry Marshall, Edwin Martie, Jim Stauffenberg, Lerv Francis, Garrett White, Richard Kovar, Donald Proper, Phillip Moeck, Robert Weber, Harry Johnson, Jackie Carrauter, Charles Mark, and William Roberts. John Mann, reporter.

PERSONNEL SPEAKER

Mrs. Laura Burian from the Illinois Bell Telephone Company appeared before the business students of the Lincoln-Way High school Thursday at their regularly scheduled meeting. Mrs. Burian is in the personnel division of the company. Her talk was interesting; she told the students about her work with the company, stating that the Telephone company is divided into 15 departments. She impressed the students with this statement and we were flabbergasted to know that there were so many departments within the company.

A round table discussion followed after her talk and questions as to what the requirements, salary, etc., were for the job.

Mrs. Burian told us that we should have good training in filing typing, and compometry. We were all impressed with this statement as we have been working faithfully on these three subjects in our office practice class. The age requirements for the positions are from 18 to 25 years. The beginning salary is $44 a week; and employees receive an increase every three months. We all were impressed with the idea that the office workers did get a 15-minute break period in the morning and the afternoon.

We were told that chewing gum and eating in the office were frowned upon; however, sometimes it was tolerated. A student should be able to type 40 words a minute, accurately, before he applies for a position with the company. The telephone company gives a clerical and typing test to their potential employees.

"We like our girls to wear skirts, blouses, tailored dresses or suits. They should not wear bobby socks. Come to work as though you were going to meet some of your best friends. Punctuality is very important to a good office worker; talking is not to be tolerated."

One of the boys wanted to know if they employed boys and what were some of the requirements. We were told that they should be at least 5'8" and not over 6'. They should be right handed for some positions, such as linemen. There are some part-time positions available to students from time to time. Student publicity.
